

meaner ones. If anybody can afford to spend life aimlessly, it's you. You have called you to a great purpose. You have heard the call, but are dallying with it. Remember that "star" in the desert. Christian manhood is a star. Samson had strength, but failed under the "power of concupiscence." He died by the cup of poison. Ingeroll had eloquence, but failed. The outward things mean, but fail. There are but "stars" in the great galaxies of life.

The Lord kept track of Saul, and God hasn't forgotten where you have been. Watching with the intense compassion of a father your every effort. His heart aches to drag you from among the luggage and give you a place in His kingdom.

Young man, I appeal to you. The wealth of the world, intelligence, moral, financial and social, is within your reach. Grapple with it all, use it for great purposes, and then service. Don't hide among it or lose your crown.

Girls, I appeal to you. Your crown is queenliness is loud; do you have it? If you spend your years in a round of dinners, clubs, dances, sports, and all of the same kind, you are not called society, you are not at all that you have "stars" in the desert. Men of business, men of science, let me appeal to you. Know his duty, he knew his place in the kingdom.

Rise to the importance of your opportunity, take your crown with you. God offers and be a king. Don't hide in the "stars".

God has given no uncertain word. Don't allow the tinsel of selfishness to blind you to the pure and righteousness. Only the man who pays attention to duty regarding all else will find his way into the kingdom and leave the world as he found it. The Lord calls him home.

Live the Christian life. Children will love you, women will respect you, men will respect you, God will crown your life with success. When the twilight of your life comes with the purpling dawn of old age, you will speak your words of honor and hapless your grave will be the evening of the Lord's life.

United States May Send a Delegation To Allied Conference on War Policies.

Prospective.
AMERICANS IN ACTION IN SPRING OFFENSIVE.
Programme for Great 1918 Drive on Land and Sea to be Arranged at a Parley in Paris.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
WASHINGTON, Bureau of the Times, Oct. 15.—The administration under consideration the movement of American representatives to the political and military conference about to be held at the Allies in Paris. It is probable that Gen. Pershing, American commander in chief, will be designated to represent the United States. The conference will take place in the middle of the month and will be the first of a series of military conferences for the great drive of 1918, in which American troops will receive a major role.

RUMORS THERE.
Paris delegates will be in the city to discuss the military campaign to be adopted if the Allies are to be reorganized as a military factor in the spring offensive. The military inactivity on the front will constitute a serious problem, and the attitude of the Allies toward the military inactivity on the front will constitute a serious problem, and the attitude of the Allies toward the military inactivity on the front will constitute a serious problem.

GENERAL EASTERN. Mrs. Blanca de Saulles, who shot and killed her husband, indicted on murder charge. Verdict of guilty in Keet kidnapping case. Reports of killing fronts send prices soaring in the New York cotton market. Ideal crop-drying weather depresses corn prices in Chicago. Heavy liquidation causes steady decline of stocks on New York exchange.

WASHINGTON. American Red Cross ships five thousand bags of flour to Serb prisoners in Austrian camps. War and Navy departments take steps to prevent dispatch of private messages from France telling of troop movements. New Chamberlain government to be represented at Washington by commissioner. South verdict is expected in Za Follette case. Western railroads expected to ask for advance in freight rates on many commodities. Wilson calls for the mobilization of all American gold to win the war.

THE GREAT WAR. The German forces which landed on the island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, have captured the Russian capital of the island, and are still pursuing the Russians at various places. In Finland no military operations on a large scale have been attempted, but the big guns are carrying out reciprocal bombardments of great violence. The British troops have carried out successful raids, in which several casualties were inflicted.

AFRICA. Two days the heavy artillery duels have been resumed between the French and the Germans on the Verdun front, especially to the north of the famous Hill 344. Germany has raised the military age limit to include men 47 years old. Andrew Courtney Campbell, American claimant, missing for two weeks, believed dead.

FOREIGN. Holland's exports are largely restricted by trade agreements with England and Germany. Entente Allies obtain many new merchant vessels by purchase.

PENINSULA CUT OFF. Russian War Fleet Retires.

Offensive.
Petrograd Reports that Naval Forces are in a Difficult Position.
Newspapers at the Capital are Now Showing Some Alarm Over Situation.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
BERLIN, Oct. 15 (via London).—Rapid progress has been made by German troops, which landed on the Russian island of Oesel, according to the official statement issued today by the German War Office. German warships shelled the Russian land batteries and silenced them. Svorb Peninsula has been cut off from the northern part of the island.

The German torpedo boats, the statement adds, penetrated the inner waters between the islands of Oesel and Dagoo, and in repeated engagements pressed back the Russian naval forces into the Moomsund.

The German landing forces have pushed forward on the island of Oesel as far as Arensburg, the capital, which is abas. The Teutons are advancing in East Oesel toward the east coast, on which the Russians are rapidly retreating to establish the mole connecting the island with Moom Island.

RUSSIAN REPORT.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PETROGRAD, Oct. 15.—German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, on Friday, occupied Arensburg, the capital of the island, on Saturday, it was announced today by the Russian War Office. Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel island.

The northern group of German warships, the statement adds, dispatched a torpedo boat squadron to the island of Oesel, and the Dagoo, which pressed back the Russian patrols. Russian naval forces reinforced the island and accepted battle, whereupon the German ships retired.

Fighting for Oesel island, the War Office announced, continued all day yesterday.

A third group of German warships, the statement adds, approached the south-west coast of Oesel island and bombarded the southern parts of the coast. German submarines were served at various times and places in the Baltic.

German naval aerial forces are supporting the land forces of the northern and southern sections of Oesel island.

Further movements of the German naval forces into the Gulf of Riga, the statement says, are covered by the long-range artillery of the Russians from Oesel island.

PUSHING FORWARD.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PETROGRAD, Oct. 15.—The German forces which were landed on Oesel island, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, are pushing forward in a difficult position the Russian forces and batteries in the district of Arensburg, at the southern end of the island, and especially those on the Ceres Peninsula. Military critics predict actions in the Gulf of Riga followed by development of the invasion to the mainland, on the coast of Estonia, rather than the warning toward the Gulf of Finland, which is protected by mine fields, which the Germans would have to sweep under the menace of the Russian fleet.

ALARM.
The newspapers exhibit alarm at the landing of the Germans on Oesel island. The Bourne Gazette says the situation of the country is the more complicated because a solution must be found, not only of the unsatisfactory state of affairs in the interior, but of the problem presented by the closing of the Gulf of Riga by the Germans. The Ruskaya Volia says that the Russian navy, but perhaps we shall find our resurrection.

The Reich attributes the disaster partly to bad visibility and the unexampled political frivolity of the German success. Only the Russian Socialist press takes the Germans to task. The Volla Narodna recast Kerensky's warning of the danger of a German coup in the Baltic, which was stigmatized by the leader of the Maximalists as an unworthy political maneuver. The newspaper insists on the necessity of an implacable struggle against Maximalism.

CO-OPERATION.
The Den declares the Maximalist aspirations recently displayed in the fleet undoubtedly distributed to the German success. Only the Russian organ of the Council of Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates, looks on the disaster as a blessing in some respects, saying the news of the German landing came at a time when Russia, learning of the troubles in the German navy, was beginning to entertain dangerous and unfounded illusions regarding the imaginary disorganization of the enemy.

The landing of the Germans has increased the exodus from Petro-

Later Dispatches THOUSANDS OF CATTLE BURNING TO DEATH IN BIG KANSAS CITY FIRE.

Stockyards.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16.—Buildings and pens of the Kansas City stockyards covering more than an acre were on fire early this morning. There were 41,000 cattle in the yards today. Fire departments of both Kansas Cities were fighting the flames at 1:45 a.m., but apparently had been able to make but little headway.

Thirty minutes later the fire had gained rapidly and extended over six city blocks. Thousands of cattle were running wildly about. It was believed at that time that fully 1000 head had been burned, with an additional thousand still in stalls and pens over which the flames were leaping.

MICHAELIS ROW REACHING CRISIS.
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—It is believed that the political situation which has arisen because of discontent in some quarters with Dr. Michaelis, the imperial Chancellor, will reach a crisis before the Reichstag reassembles in December. Dr. Michaelis remains in Berlin, conferring with Reichstag leaders and his personal advisers, endeavoring to find a solution to the situation, but, according to advices received here, he does not seem to realize that his own position is endangered.

The political leaders and the newspapers continue to declare his unfitness for the high office he holds. They point out his failure to develop any positive programme or to exercise any effective leadership. On the contrary, they say he has permitted himself to be buffeted hither and thither, now by the Pan-Germans and now by the Reichstag majority, which have wrested from him one grudging concession after another.

The Chancellor's biggest blunder, in the eyes of the moderate press, was his rehabilitation of the independent Socialists by his disclosures concerning the mutiny on German warships, thereby driving the Socialists into opposition, which many persons believe will unite the two Socialist wings into a powerful radical opposition. Even the Pan-Germans say that, unless Dr. Michaelis is able to rule the situation with a stronger hand, he had better resign.

ARCHBISHOP HANNA ON PATRIOTISM.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 16.—"Better we all died in this war than let the false philosophy which caused it triumph," declared the Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, archbishop of San Francisco, in an address today before members of the Escalante Club, a Catholic organization.

"There is no doubt about the justice of our cause," he declared.

In the address Archbishop Hanna said that the people of the United States had hoped that the wave of blood might not touch our shores.

"But the cause became so great and the danger so imperative that we had to throw in our lot with the other nations. And on this day we are the mightiest factor in the struggle."

TO PROSECUTE SOCIALIST DEPUTIES.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—The Hamburg Fremdenblatt, a copy of which has been received here, says the German government has decided to prosecute Herren Hasse, Dittmann and Vogherr, the three Socialist deputies whose names were lately linked with the mutiny in the German fleet, if possible. The government has submitted evidence against the three deputies to the imperial court at Leipzig and, therefore, has declined the suggestion that a parliamentary committee of investigation be appointed. It is believed here that the German government, alarmed at the result of its effort to saddle the responsibility for the fleet mutiny on the independent Socialists, has decided to force the matter to an issue in the civil courts.

NAVAL OFFICER HELD AS A SPY.
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 15.—William J. Dunbar, in command of a United States Navy submarine chaser stationed at Greenport, L. I., was interned on Ellis Island tonight as an enemy alien. Dunbar, who is said to hold the rank of ensign, was arrested late this evening by Detective McGee of the Second Branch Detective Bureau and turned over to local agents of the Department of Justice.

The authorities say that Dunbar was accused of spying out this country's naval secrets for Germany. Had his arrest come a little later, in the opinion of Federal officials here, his confederates and his means of communication with Germany would have been discovered.

HOLD SUSPECT IN SEATTLE MURDER.
SEATTLE, Oct. 15.—Jasper D. Bailey, who was at the dance attended by Miss Ruby Demeritt on the night on which it is presumed she was murdered, was arrested tonight on an open charge. Bailey, it is said, was one of an automobile party which left the dance and which included Miss Demeritt and her escort, Pat McGinn.

Miss Demeritt's decapitated body was found in a clump of brush near the city limits Sunday and was identified today through a letter written to her by Earl O'Brien. She was 17 years of age.

MASONS AND WAR WORK.
Exclusion of Organization From Camps by Secretary Baker Declared Proper Order.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—George F. Moore, Sovereign Grand Commander, in his allocation at the biennial session of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Masons for the southern jurisdiction of the United States here today, discussed Secretary Baker's order interpreted as excluding all organizations from camps and banquets except two which are now active.

After relating details of his conference with Secretary Baker, Mr. Moore said:

"The result of that interview was to convince me that the Secretary of War had and has no intention to damage or to treat with disrespect any of the fraternities existing in the United States.

"The real service which can be rendered to the soldiers of our army may be far more effective, far more useful, far more productive of good results on the outside than on the inside of their camps."

ARRIVAL IN EUROPE OF ARMY FORCES MADE PUBLIC.
War Department Takes Steps to Prevent Further Dispatch of Private Messages Telling of Troop Movements—Officers are Liable to Court-Martial.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Aroused by publication in some parts of the country of private cablegrams announcing arrival of American troops in France, the War and Navy departments today took steps to prevent a repetition of the incidents which may result in the court-martial of the officers who sent the messages.

In one case a former National Guard officer wired his Governor of the arrival of the State's troops, but so far as is known here, newspapers in that locality observed the government's voluntary censorship request and did not print the cablegram. In the other case, however, a former National Guard officer telegraphed the Governor of his State the arrival of his regiment, with a request that it be given full publicity. The Governor's office sent out the cablegram and many papers in that State printed the news. This morning other newspapers published the dispatch, adding the number and designation of the regiment, all in violation of the voluntary censorship.

The War Department has most urgently requested that nothing whatever be printed about arrivals of troops abroad, printing at the same time to report promptly any casualties. Friends who know troops have sailed and hear nothing further may assume they have arrived safely.

Steps probably will be taken to prevent further violations of the censorship rules. The War Department has under the Federal government and longer are under State control. By reason of the censorship of the Federal government, being governed only by State laws. The President addressed himself to these institutions.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN KEET KIDNAPING.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
MARSHFIELD (Mo.), Oct. 15.—Claude Piersol was found guilty of kidnapping Lloyd Keet by the jury at 10:25 o'clock tonight. He was sentenced to thirty-five years' imprisonment.

Counsel for the defense immediately filed a motion for a new trial which will be acted on in November.

Piersol accepted the verdict in the same calm manner he has shown throughout the trial.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Holland Keet, parents of the kidnapped infant, were in the courtroom when the verdict was rendered.

DON'T MISDIRECT SOLDIERS' MAIL.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Reports to the Postmaster-General indicate there has been a steady improvement in the postal service at the military camps and front-line stations, the hindrance to the prompt delivery being due to improper addresses and careless wrapping.

Postal officials are calling to the attention of relatives and others writing to soldiers the necessity of having all mail bear the proper name of the soldier, his rank, company and regiment.

MILK INSPECTORS HOLD CONVENTION.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

The meeting will continue through Wednesday.

PUT EVERY BANK UNDER FEDERAL BOARD.

President Sounds the Call to Arms to All the Financial Institutions in the United States.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson tonight sounded a call for the mobilization of all the nation's gold reserves under supervision of the Federal Reserve Board.

In a statement made through the board, the President called upon all eligible nonmember State banks and trust companies to join the Federal reserve system without further delay, that they may "contribute their share" to the consolidated gold reserves of the country and aid more effectively in "a vigorous prosecution and successful termination of the war."

Scores of such institutions have flocked to the system within the past three weeks, among them some of the largest trust companies in New York, Philadelphia and other cities. The movement to the Federal reserve system has lacked only a final impelling force to assume the proportions of a landslide.

Within less than three weeks resources of such institutions in the system have risen from $1,200,000,000 to more than $2,400,000,000.

Liberty Loan financing, the resultant activity in the money market, the State banks and the government's huge financial transactions upon the bond markets and the stock exchanges of the country have made it imperative, in the view of the administration, for the Federal Reserve Board to control not a major fraction of the gold reserve of the country, but the entire amount. The recent embargo on gold exports has made it highly desirable that this control be acquired as speedily as possible.

With the board in active daily control of the country's huge store of gold, at present more than $2,000,000,000, watching every avenue through which it may be loosed and vigilant in its supervision of the country's banking activities, officials believe that the financial position of the country may be rendered as nearly impregnable as human skill can make it.

At present, the board controls the activities of institutions representing only one-half of the nation's banking resources. The latest report of the Comptroller of the Currency places at over $100,000,000,000 the resources of the banks within the system. Since that report was issued, however, nearly $1,500,000,000 in resources have been added through the acquisition of new members.

There are, however, between 8000 and 9000 eligible banks and trust companies, with resources estimated at from $12,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000, whose activities are entirely beyond the control of the Federal government, being governed only by State laws. The President addressed himself to these institutions.

THEir STATEMENT.
His statement says: "It is manifestly imperative that there should be a complete mobilization of the banking resources of the United States. All who are familiar with financial operations must appreciate the importance of developing to the maximum our banking power and of providing financial resources to meet the very great financial requirements imposed upon us."

WAR MEASURE.
The new censorship board will take over this work at least in a supervisory way. The present naval censorship, covering outgoing cables to European countries, to the Orient, Cuba and to South America. Unless something is done to increase upon them any solemn conviction that they can best measure up to their duties and responsibilities through membership in the Federal reserve system.

CENSORS SOON TO OPEN ALL U.S. FOREIGN MAIL.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 15.—In the near future all mails passing between the United States and foreign countries will bear the label "opened by censor" affixed by American censors.

Up to date there has been no mail censorship in the United States, but all American mails for Europe, except those transported on steamers sailing directly for Spanish ports, have been opened by British or French censors.

It is probable that incoming European mails which have been passed by Allied censors will not be rechecked by the newly-created American censorship board. This would be a duplication of the work of a censorship board which has been engaged upon it for more than two years. Outgoing European mails, including those destined for Europe, undoubtedly will be developed by the American board, which in time probably will relieve the British and French censors of this end of the work.

For three years the United States Navy has been censoring wireless messages, both outgoing and incoming, via the big trans-Atlantic radio

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 15.—Secretary of War Baker said today he would oppose amendment to the draft law reported to have been suggested by Representative Kahn of California, changing the age limits for the draft from 21 to 31, as at present, to 18 to 40 years.

Secretary Baker made it clear that he would vigorously oppose any plan to increase the maximum age of the draft law. He would not speak for the President, but it is his opinion that the President is raising the draft maximum age.

When the draft law was up for consideration in Congress Secretary Baker favored the limit of 21 in the law at from 19 to 25 years, inclusive. When Congress fixed the limits at 21 to 31, Secretary Baker

"A young man of 19 is not equipped to be a soldier. If a man passes the age of 30, more than likely he has acquired sufficient military training to be readily available for service."

Increasing the maximum age would only add to the burden of the Secretary Baker is of the 7,000,000 remaining in the military service. The first draft levy. He said the limits set out in the present law are bringing all the men who are fit for service. He said that, as a fact, the government required to register could do so without danger of hardship. He stated that the limits of 19 and 20 taken exemption claims.

Housework is too hard for a woman who is half sick, nervous and always tired. It keeps piling up, and gives weak kidneys no time to recover. If your back is lame and aches and your kidneys irregular, if you have "blue spells," sick headaches, nervousness, dizziness and rheumatic pains, use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have done wonders for thousands of women worn out with weak kidneys.

A Los Angeles Woman's Experience:
Mrs. L. G. Berdier, 1122 E. Forty-fifth st., says: "My kidney trouble started with a sharp pain in the small of my back. Before long the pains were awful and I felt miserable all over. Any housework such as sweeping or anything which made me bend over was awfully hard for me. I had a cold which settled on my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

The British agreement was made November 1, 1916, and the German agreement was made on December 1, 1916. Only commodities produced in The Netherlands are concerned. The agreement provides that the total exports from Holland to the United Kingdom shall be pro-rated. It is assumed that the remainder not sent to England will go to Germany.

It is provided that the United Kingdom shall get half the total exports of pig metal; one-quarter of the butter, one-third of the cheese and two-thirds of the milk. Not less than one-half the total exports of meat from Holland to belligerent countries must go to the United Kingdom. This leaves the other half free to the German market.

No sugar or sugar beet may be sent to Holland without special arrangements with the exception that the Dutch are permitted to maintain their trade in sugar and sugar beet to Belgium. FORMULATE PLAN TO KEEP PEACE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—Plans to assist in formulating "a practicable plan, in accordance with the principle of the League of Nations, to maintain international peace and justice after the war," was expressed in a resolution adopted by a conference of lawyers recently held here.

Lord Parmoor, in his opening address said he would like to see the question directly considered as to which of the nations at war are prepared to adopt some common international arrangement in order to prevent as far as possible any recurrence of such a war as the present one. This, he said, would be a fairly effective test of the real position.

Baron Buckmaster, of Cheddington, formerly Lord High Chancellor, said it was exactly three years ago that he delivered the ultimatum to Serbia, which had led to the conflagration in which the world was being fast consumed. It was, he said, a tragedy which was easily susceptible of adjustment by a body of fair-minded men. Yet that one murder had cost the murder of millions and millions of men.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN WILL BUILD OWN FILM PLANT.

UNIQUE among the motion-picture producing plants of Southern California will be a studio to be built in Hollywood by Charlie Chaplin. The project, which was announced yesterday by the famous screen comedian's brother and manager, Sid Chaplin, is to go ahead at once.

The plant will be at once a workshop and a home for the movie idol, but it is declared that every effort will be made to get as far away from the shop aspect as possible.

Chaplin has acquired a site the beautiful estate of E. S. McClellan at the southeast corner of Sunset boulevard and La Brea avenue. The property comprises nearly five acres and is for the most part covered with old orange trees, there being a slightly ten-room Colonial house set in the midst of lawn and gardens fronting on Sunset boulevard. The holding extends back along La Brea avenue to De Longpre avenue, having a frontage of 600 feet on the former by 300 feet on the latter, with 300 feet on Sunset.

programme, caused considerable dismay yesterday among housewives, restaurant and hotel owners and meat dealers who have laid in the ordinary stocks anticipating a normal demand for meat. There will be some loss, it is feared, but most of those approached last night expressed a willingness to stand it in the interests of the cause.

Restaurant and cafe owners, as well as proprietors of the largest meat markets in the city, were caught unawares. All of them expressed their patriotic belief in the necessity of the action, but bewailed the short notice on which the proclamation was made.

Many of the restaurants laid in stocks of meats to run them through today and said that if they did not eat them they would be discarded to a great extent.

R. H. Jenkins, part owner of the Newmarket Company, one of the largest meat markets in the city, said he roughly estimates that about one-seventh of the gross amount of the week's business would be lost.

That the restaurants would be glad to co-operate in such a scheme, had they been informed in time to make arrangements, was the declaration of S. J. Augsberger, manager of the Childs restaurant. He stated, however, that in most cases it was too late to do anything in the matter, as the day's orders had been placed already.

Following is Mayor Woodman's proclamation: "Believing that the citizens of the city of Los Angeles are willing to yield to none in the patriotism and sacrifice in the face of their country's need, I call upon the people of the city to take steps, the necessity of which have been declared imperative by the National Food Commission, which are:

"That each family should go without meat one day in the week; "That each family should go without white bread one meal a day; "That each individual should reduce his consumption of sugar by one-third the present amount; "That the use of butter in cooking and elsewhere be reduced to a minimum; "That private family and public eating-house should co-operate in this matter. It is necessary to conserve the food resources of the country, a necessity caused by war conditions, and I declare Tuesday, October 16, as the first 'meatless day.'

Many of the restaurants laid in stocks of meats to run them through today and said that if they did not eat them they would be discarded to a great extent.

R. H. Jenkins, part owner of the Newmarket Company, one of the largest meat markets in the city, said he roughly estimates that about one-seventh of the gross amount of the week's business would be lost.

That the restaurants would be glad to co-operate in such a scheme, had they been informed in time to make arrangements, was the declaration of S. J. Augsberger, manager of the Childs restaurant. He stated, however, that in most cases it was too late to do anything in the matter, as the day's orders had been placed already.

Following is Mayor Woodman's proclamation: "Believing that the citizens of the city of Los Angeles are willing to yield to none in the patriotism and sacrifice in the face of their country's need, I call upon the people of the city to take steps, the necessity of which have been declared imperative by the National Food Commission, which are:

"That each family should go without meat one day in the week; "That each family should go without white bread one meal a day; "That each individual should reduce his consumption of sugar by one-third the present amount; "That the use of butter in cooking and elsewhere be reduced to a minimum; "That private family and public eating-house should co-operate in this matter. It is necessary to conserve the food resources of the country, a necessity caused by war conditions, and I declare Tuesday, October 16, as the first 'meatless day.'

 In a Greek Theater! Why, the theaters of old Greece were the principal recruiting

NO SCHOONER.
 The new Federal tax law which im-

 a quart bottle, and the price of posterior plume of domestic fowls (cocktails) has advanced to 25 cents each. Beer remains at 5 cents, but instead of giving a schooner of beer for that sum the intelligent barkeep-er gives the customer only a small slop of it.

"THE WILL TO DISBELIEVE."
 A local citizen who pretends to be shocked at the way Billy Sunday handles the English language advises mothers to keep their children away from the tabernacle, suggesting that they go and take their little ones to some of the meetings held by the Rationalist association or by the Los Angeles Liberal Club. His advice recalls the story of the red-headed, bear-eyed individual who went to hear the late Robert Ingersoll speak on the subject of "Hell," a region which the lecturer dispensed with at the beginning of his address by declaring that there is no such place.
 The drunkard lifted his greasy old hat in the air and blurted out, "That's the stuff, old boy! Go to it—hell! We're all dependin' on you!"

KNOWING AND BELIEVING.
 Sometimes a so-called mystic or philosopher of the whiffiness of the why not,
 one of those creatures that seem to delight in confusing others, boldly asserts that "All we are and all we seem is but a dream within a dream." He tells us that not only are all the good things of life, including the senses and the sensibilities, pure illusions, but that all our ideals and ideas of the soul and immortality are based on assumptions. He may be right, but since, according to his own argument, he cannot know that his assertion is true, upon what grounds does he base his statement? Admitting that he is right, however, and granting that man are sure of nothing, such a negative philosophy is not for one moment be allowed to interfere with the happiness of any individual who is blessed with the faculty of imagination. If one cannot know anything he can at least believe the best. The road to happiness lies in the will to believe that which comforts the heart, in the cultivation of the faith that declares the good and the beautiful to be everlasting in its essence. Peace of mind springs from the assumption that "all things work together for good." While intellect grovels in the dust, grappling with the atom, faith wings her way among the stars, shining as she goes.

CAVE MEN MUST GO.
 The "Wild Adonis of Montebello" has been captured again. He was found among the willows of the San Gabriel River, in a "lair to which he had taken canned goods and vegetables which he had stolen from grocery stores and farms. He has been arrested several times and sent to jail, but every time he is released he returns to the old life. It is really too bad the poor fellow can't get a living without stealing at or working for it. Southern California is a wonderful land in which to live the primitive life. Most of us envy the modern Adams and Eves who strike out alone, clad mostly in climate and crowned with sunbeams, depending on nature for sustenance and shelter, only few of us dare to attempt it. There are so few electric lights, bathrooms, cafeterias and other conveniences in the hills and among the willows. Besides, most of us have to stay at home with our families or work on new-papers or join the army or something. Except for a few daring, staid spirits, the old cave-man days are gone forever. Whether we like it or not, we are living in the new day and must adjust ourselves to the times. Some of the old German philosophers prophesied the return of the cave man and his methods, and the prophecy has been fulfilled in Germany. It seemed easy for the descendants of the Black Forest savages to relapse into the ways of their ancestors, but for the more civilized people of the globe it is not so easy. Ten-ton and Turk have changed but little in several centuries and that is why, although they are still strong physically and not weak mentally, they are certain to be subdued by those spiritual forces that dominate every advancing nation.

CONCERNING PEACE.
 It looks like peace. And it is worldwide irony that, while everybody wants peace, wants it above almost anything else, everybody is afraid of peace—afraid that one side or the other will get the best of it.
 A disturbance on board German ships that has figured in the dispatches as a "revolt" is looked upon with suspicion by Washington as having been staged for a diplomatic purpose; either to arouse false hope in the Allies or to have an excuse for rigorously suppressing the disturbers in the Reichstag.
 Mr. Taft, in a forceful and eloquent address, has warned the country against a "premature peace." But the peace dove, if we may mix our metaphors, continually bobs up like a cork. Peace is in the air.
 There is no escaping the feeling that the world is very near to it.

The Times was at first skeptical of the reported "revolt" on the German battleships; but the more we think of it the more inclined we are to believe that the reports are basically true and that the Kaiser is furious. At first he is said to have ordered the crew decimated, but later modified the order and had only the ringleaders shot. And as for having staged even a trifling mutiny, we cannot believe that Germany (so proud of its military discipline and so intent upon keeping the nation united and refusing to admit that anybody could possibly be dissatisfied with the government) would willingly allow the impression to go out in the world that German sailors were disgruntled to the point of revolt. Signs of defection in the German navy and army would certainly arouse hope in the Allies; and also eagerness to smash and hit with redoubled fury and increase the despair of the enemy. And as for suppressing disturbers in the Reichstag, since when has the Kaiser needed more of a pretext than his "imperial will"? If things have come to such a pass in Germany that a mutiny must be staged as an excuse to punish and imprison the clamorers for peace, then it is obvious that the internal conditions are more precarious than a little revolt by a few sailors on a battleship would indicate.

View the matter from any angle and it has in each a significance favorable for the Allies. And the question arises, how much discontent, how many mutinies, how many revolts, small and sporadic, have taken place of which neither the German people nor the world at large had an inkling? When Von Tirpitz will admit that "England is in a very favorable condition" it means that the whole nation is without hope and without faith in the army and navy. Germany is simply caving in. The lines of defense are standing comparatively firm, but the tremendous pressure that the world has brought to bear is affecting internal Germany. The lack of food, fuel and victories has played havoc with the spirit of the people.

Mr. Taft warns the Allies to deny any peace "that will rescue the Hohenzollern dynasty, the military autocracy, the Prussian army regime from revolutionary distinction." There is much talk of overturning Prussianism before countenancing peace; but as a matter of fact the Prussian military autocracy is already crushed as far as respect for it, and willingness to continue to tolerate it, among the German people is concerned. The Prussian regime was glorified only because it promised a believing people to conquer the earth. The people have learned that the Kaiser, to whom they gave money and sons without stint, in whom they had faith comparable only to that of a zealot's faith in his religion, has failed miserably, and that their army cannot win. The people can never again have faith in militarism; and that in which they have no faith they will not support. Their militarism now, as long as the war lasts, is their only hope of defense, but make peace and the prestige of militarism will instantly crumble because it has failed.

SUFFRAGE A MOCKERY IN GERMANY.
 President Wilson has asserted repeatedly since the outbreak of the war that the United States seeks to democratize Germany; that the other nations of the world will have faith in the pledges of the German people, but will never again trust a "scrap of paper" to which is attached the signature and seal of the German autocracy.
 Sponsors from the house of Hohenzollern have responded that the German government is, in reality, a democracy; that the Kaiser is only president of a board of directors representing the different German states, and that the Reichstag is the most democratic assemblage in the world.
 What are the facts?

Universal suffrage is guaranteed by the constitution of the confederated German states, but not EQUAL SUFFRAGE. In selecting members for the Reichstag, the so-called popular house in the German government, every male citizen 24 years of age is permitted to take a part; that is universal suffrage; but the count is so arranged that the voice of a single capitalist—there are no such things as ballots in German elections—is often equal to that of a thousand workmen; and that is very nearly the antithesis of equal suffrage.
 If equal suffrage had prevailed in Germany prior to the present war the military machine of the house of Hohenzollern would never have existed; for the average German is too careful of his finances to support so expensive and menacing a thing.
 Different electoral systems prevail in the different German states. For the purpose of this editorial we shall consider that of Prussia only; for the kingdom of Prussia contains about two-thirds the population of the German Empire; it elects two-thirds of the members of the Reichstag, and its King becomes automatically the German Emperor.

In Prussia the Great Register is made up from the tax rolls. Prussia clings to the old system of Servius Tullius that he who pays the greatest sum for the support of a government shall have the greatest voice in the direction of that government. Carrying this system into effect, the electors of each district are divided into three classes, based on the proportionate amount of tax which they pay. Suppose a district which contains three thousand electors and pays $30,000,000 in taxes; that means an allotment of $10,000,000 in taxes of each class. In this district the taxes of five capitalists may aggregate $10,000,000; then the vote of these five electors equals that of the thousands of that district. The taxes of fifty others may aggregate $10,000,000; then these fifty electors will name one-third the delegates from that district. The remaining third of the delegates would be elected by 2945 electors. Such is the extent to which equal suffrage prevails in Prussia.

Donald Paize Fray of the historical faculty of Yale points out, in an illuminating article on "Democracy in Prussia," appearing in the American Review of Reviews for October, that "At Essen the male head of the Krupp is the only man in Class I in his precinct, and Rothschild's position at Frankfurt was similar. . . . In the famous Twenty-eighth District in Berlin
 there is only one elector in the first class and two in the second."

It is due to this system of electing members of the Reichstag that the Hohenzol-lern majority in that body is maintained.
 Secret balloting in Prussia is unknown.
 And voting is oral. Each elector appears at his polling booth carrying his identification card. The chairman of the precinct asks him for whom he desires to vote and the elector responds in an audible voice.
 The employer knows how his workmen have voted, the landlord how his tenants have voted, and one whose vote is purchas-able gives open proof of delivery. By reason of this oral voting the government
 seeks to control the franchise of the middle class. The greater part of the capitalists are with the government. If a majority of the middle class can be controlled through financial connections the government has no reason to worry about the third or popular class. In the illustration just given, if the government can control two of the three major capitalists of the first class and a majority of the fifty minor capitalists in the second class, it will not be concerned about the suffrage of the 2945 electors of the third class.

Despite the almost prohibitive handicap of this three-class system, the Social Democratic control about one-third the seats in the Reichstag. If equal suffrage prevailed there would be in the majority. But it will require pressure from without or a terrible revolution from within before equal suffrage can be obtained. It cannot be obtained at the polls, because any proposal for equal suffrage must run the gauntlet of this three-class system of suffrage. Before democracy can obtain equal suffrage in Germany aristocracy must accord it to them; but if the power of that autocracy is once broken; if a single election could be held in which the voice of every man would be equal to that of every other, the German people would elect to govern themselves.
 Before the final terms of peace are agreed upon such an election may be held under the supervision of the allied nations. It is to hasten the day when the German people
 shall be arbiters of their own destiny that
 the American people are now called upon
 to make their heroic sacrifice.

BOLO PASHA.

Bolo Pasha, who is in custody in Paris on a charge of having relations with the enemy, attempted to terminate his malefic-ent existence with a hunger strike. The Times regrets that the French authorities resorted to forcibly feeding him. Why should good food be wasted in order to keep alive his miserable carcass? Why not have let him join his father, the devil, in his own way? And let those who dined and dined him here break bread with him there.

If that Russian army could only be prevented from lying down. It seems to have a constant attack of fatigue.

THE PATRIOTISM OF MILLIONAIRES.

Henry Ford made his multi-millions not by gambling successfully in Wall street, but by supplying the people with useful and necessary automobiles. The money he made in the American Review of Reviews for October, that "At Essen the male head of
 the Krupp is the only man in Class I in
 his precinct, and Rothschild's position at Frankfurt was similar. . . . In the famous Twenty-eighth District in Berlin

 able gives open proof of delivery. By reason
 of this oral voting the government
 seeks to control the franchise of the middle

 the supervision of the allied nations. It is
 to hasten the day when the German people
 shall be arbiters of their own destiny that
 the American people are now called upon
 to make their heroic sacrifice.

The benefits that are absorbed by ownership of the profits of industry are infinitesimal compared with the benefits that are widely distributed as the development goes on. It is an absurd assumption of socialism that nobody benefits from a rich man's wealth but himself.

The taxation which the government levies upon Henry Ford will not diminish by one dollar his personal expenditures. It will come out of that portion of his income which is destined to investments, or in other words from that portion which is devoted to public purposes. It subtracts just as much from the capital fund as though the title to it was in the nation. It may be called for in time of war for defense of the nation, but it is in the common interest that it shall be replenished after the war is over.

WORK.

BY ARTHUR CHAPMAN,
 In "Judge."

Work is an institution that has managed to survive in spite of many human contrivances to put it out of existence. The chief friend and ally of Work is Hunger. When Work finds that it is being neglected it complains to Hunger, which says:
 "All right, old man, I'll fix this little matter for you inside of twenty-four hours." And as a rule Hunger's word is made good.

Work is more eminent than Hawk-shaw, the detective, in the assumption of disguises. Lots of people work yet don't let it be known that they are doing it. Fishermen, golfers, tennis players and others think they are getting a joke on Work, when as a matter of fact the joke is on them.

Some people spend all their lives dodging Work, only to bump into it everywhere. To a certain few Work is a pleasure, and to others it is a calamity. But Work never cares, so long as his toll is extracted.

Work never took a day off in its life.
 Furthermore Work never expects to.
 As for a regular vacation, Work would scoff at the idea. No one has ever yet delved far enough into the records to discover the origin of Work, nor is the public extremely curious in the matter. It is enough to know that Work is here, and that it is the last to go to bed at night.

Work's relatives are the Job brothers and sisters. The Job family is varied as to appearance. Some of the members of the family are stout and others are decidedly the opposite. Some are easy-going and some are harsh. All of them, however, are intensely loyal to Work.
 In fact the first intimation of a personal dislike to Work gives rise to a certain frigidly which the members of the Job family make no effort to conceal. Persistence in severance of diplomatic relations with the human palm and carving fine lines in the human brow. Those who elect to receive the calluses generally live longer than those who choose to have their foreheads tattoored by Work's master hand.

Greater of all his achievements,
 Work alone is able to make man forget his arch-enemy, Trouble.

The Guilty Party.
 For a week the pupils of a kindergarten school had been studying about the wind's power, effect, etc.—and the subject was getting exhausted. In an effort to stimulate the teacher, in her most enthusiastic manner, said:
 "Children, as I came to school today in the trolley car the door opened and something softly came in and kissed me on the cheek.
 What do you think it was?"
 And without a moment of hesitation they answered, "The conductor!"—[Harper's.]

At this stage parsimony would be
 as bad as thriftlessness, and both are to be avoided. Governmental agencies are preaching economy
 along every line, but the government does not mean to aim a blow
 at business and manufacturing by urging the people to stinginess. Cut out the waste—economize the whole situation. The less that normal conditions are disturbed now the more easy will be the readjustment when
 the fear and pressure of war are withdrawn. — [St. Paul Pioneer Press.]

American women are urged to use
 nothing in their millinery that is needed for the soldiers. This will not be the white feathers from won-
 en's hats. — [Lewistown Saturday Journal.]

No sense of surprise or shock is
 felt at the red-headed discovery of Germany in the act of using a neutral country and a neutral channel
 of communication for warring
 against the world. — [Chicago Post.]

The German language newspapers
 have in many instances offended the
 government which permits them to
 exist, but they have more grievously
 offended their readers, the honest
 citizens of German origin, by misleading them not only as to the
 facts about the progress of the war,
 but also as to the truth about America's reasons for participating in the world struggle. As the facts become known, the German language
 press will lose all of its power for
 either good or ill. — [Minneapolis Tribune.]

There are only one hundred rifles
 in the United States to supply the twenty thousand men there. But perhaps it is the intention to have
 our troops capture their rifles from
 the enemy. — [Kansas City Times.]

RIPLING RHYMES.

BEGGARS ON WHEELS.

I see a million auto scoot before my dwelling daily; the engines hum, the honk-honks toot, the wheels are spinning gaily. I recognize a lot of jays who thus go whizzing past me and say, "It beats me how they raise the wherewithal, dogdam me!"
 For there goes Boggs, who doesn't pay the butcher and the baker, who's skanking off, from day to day, the patient undertaker. And there goes Skankin', I saw him stick a mortgage on his shanty; he couldn't get a prune on tick 'twixt here and Ypsalanti.
 And there goes Swigg; he's borrowin' mon from every friend and neighbor; he's so enamored of his fun he's cut out useful labor. I see the long procession go, the tireless auto flitting, and wonder, as I watch them flow, what poorhouse
 the human palm and carving fine lines

THE MORNING HUNT.

BY MARY MERRICK SMALE.

Wake up! Wake up, ye sleepers, the morning hunt comes light.
 The smoke above a million guns creeps slowly up the sky.
 Get out your guns, ye hunters, the vanquished far has gone.
 The greatest hunt since time began in all the world is on.
 Sound every drum and bugle, put every lance in rest;
 Get out the breastplate of your faith and bind it on your breast.

The treacherous Prussian jungle cat and his leech mate,
 With ravening jaws and dripping jaws across the nations wait.
 The dreadful purring of the beast, the vibrant air around,
 With shrieks of ravished womankind and screams of wounded babes.

No age, sex or condition deters his purpose grim,
 But woe betide his striped hide when Wrath shall close with him.
 Sleek with his years of waiting, he flings pretense away,
 While false and keeping faith with none, he makes the way.

His silent, sulking mate at home, within her lair he sits,
 While brooding o'er her wounded cub she gloats above his wit.
 Our wrath shall give no quarter, our rage shall feel no pain,
 Till collared with the kennelled hounds the Prussian feline slain.

Though faring far and mustering late, his gray-clad legions wait, While Luck, the bastard child of Fate, slinks, mope, at his feet.
 Though hiding in the fastnesses of earth or sea or air,
 The sword of vengeance, following still, shall search and slay him there.

Rise, patriot! Shout your battle cry with purpose grim and bold, There'll be no peace while Wilhelm lives and reigns this side of old.

HITS AND MISSES BY OTHER PAPERS.

China is planning to have 24,000 troops on the French frontier by January 1. In past years we have heard a great deal of the "heaven Chinese" and it will be a unique and inspiring spectacle to see representatives of what has been generally regarded to be a semicivilized people take the field against German brutality and ruthlessness. — [Balti-

His name does not indicate German origin, yet Robert M. La Follette, the leader of that "little group of willful men," in his mental processes betrays traits seldom found outside the typical German mind.
 Readers of German philosophy and devotees of their sick literature frequently acquire the superficial aspects of German "intellectualism," but their minds are never wholly Teutonized. Mr. La Follette, if he is not German, has proved the rule by becoming the exception. — [New

Applomb is a highly-desirable trait, and we are collectively showing a deal of it. As a nation we have gone into a great war with a remarkable amount of equanimity.
 Neither our friends nor our foes could have believed it of us. As an example of calm, keen unadulterated purpose based upon the conscious and free choice of a large and heterogeneous population it has never been excelled. — [Nation's Business.]

The man worth while is the man who can smile when the government reduces the price of hard coal after he has his cellar full. — [St.
 Paul Pioneer Press.]

At this stage parsimony would be
 as bad as thriftlessness, and both
 are to be avoided. Governmental
 agencies are preaching economy
 along every line, but the government does not mean to aim a blow
 at business and manufacturing by
 urging the people to stinginess. Cut
 out the waste—economize the whole
 situation. The less that normal conditions are disturbed now the more
 easy will be the readjustment when
 the fear and pressure of war are
 withdrawn. — [St. Paul Pioneer Press.]

American women are urged to use
 nothing in their millinery that is needed for the soldiers. This will not be the white feathers from won-
 en's hats. — [Lewistown Saturday Journal.]

No sense of surprise or shock is
 felt at the red-headed discovery of Germany in the act of using a neutral country and a neutral channel
 of communication for warring
 against the world. — [Chicago Post.]

The German language newspapers
 have in many instances offended the
 government which permits them to
 exist, but they have more grievously
 offended their readers, the honest
 citizens of German origin, by mis-
 leading them not only as to the
 facts about the progress of the war,
 but also as to the truth about America's reasons for participating in the world struggle. As the facts become known, the German language
 press will lose all of its power for
 either good or ill. — [Minneapolis Tribune.]

There are only one hundred rifles
 in the United States to supply the
 twenty thousand men there. But
 perhaps it is the intention to have
 our troops capture their rifles from
 the enemy. — [Kansas City Times.]

STOCKS FORCED DOWN BY HEAVY LIQUIDATION.

Line is General Throughout the Entire List—Steel Below Par.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
New York, Oct. 15.—Liquidation was the keynote of the stock market today. The decline in prices was general throughout the entire list, with steel stocks showing the most pronounced weakness. The market was characterized by heavy selling and a general loss of confidence among investors. The steel industry, in particular, was under heavy attack, with prices for various grades of steel falling significantly below par. The market was also affected by the liquidation of several large financial institutions, which further contributed to the overall decline in prices. The closing prices for major stocks were as follows: Steel stocks, down 10 to 20 points; financial stocks, down 5 to 10 points; and industrial stocks, down 2 to 5 points. The market was expected to remain weak in the near future, with further liquidation likely to continue.

COMMERCIAL.
LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Eastern coconut manufacturers are having serious trouble in getting shipments of coconut from South America and other produce countries. Shipping trouble, of course, has been in evidence for many months, but ships are becoming scarce in this trade, and indications are for still greater trouble in the near future. Coconut contains oil, and the Allies need vegetable oil more than any other product. Therefore, in many of the coconut-producing countries, there is pressing the oil out of these nuts and shipping in this compact form to France and Great Britain. There have been sharp advances in coconut prices both in bulk and packages, although most of the local jobbers so far have kept their values steady on account of having fair stocks. Beyond a doubt, however, the Commercial Bulletin, which accounts will be 2 to 3 cents higher in a very short time.

Northern Burbank potatoes have been marked down to 12.50 and 13.00 hundred for the better stuff and Russets were selling yesterday for 11.00 to 12.50. There seems to be no reason for this higher market, as the northern crop is moving freely and the yield this year was tremendous. However, a rather restricted supply in this city. The real reason appears to be that there is no objection to a rising market on the part of the consuming public, so prices have naturally sought higher levels.

The only alteration in egg prices at yesterday morning's session of the Produce Exchange was an advance in the price of pullets of half a cent a dozen. Receipts consisted of 58 cases of eggs, 11,000 pounds of butter, 12,000 pounds of cheese, 3725 sacks of potatoes, 114 sacks of onions, 1018 sacks of beans, 25 sacks of sweet potatoes and 23,380 bushels of apples.

DIVORCE SUIT RATHER RACY.

Unusual Evidence Given in the Bartow Action.

Wife's Sister Tells of Visit to Alleged "Love Nest."

Doctor Hugged, Kissed Other Woman, She States.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Ruth C. Bartow against Dr. Winfield L. Bartow, in which Mrs. Jean A. Mort is named as co-respondent, is regarded as only the curtain-raiser for the $100,000 alienation of affections suit of Dr. Bartow against Edward T. Off, former president of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. Mrs. Bartow is secretary of the tournament. Both are prominent in Pasadena society.

The story of the alleged intimacy of Dr. Bartow and Mrs. Mort in their alleged love nest at No. 1637 Oak street, Glendale, the testimony of men and women who saw him at the house, from the milkman to the professional nurse, the secret visit to the home by Mrs. Mort's husband, and the conversation he heard his wife have with a man, poles before the testimony of Mrs. Charles W. Bartow, the sister-in-law of Dr. Bartow.

She testified that, having been invited to the home, Mrs. Mort was introduced to her as "Jean." She said that Mrs. Mort showed her quilts that she had made. They were on the bed. Men's and women's clothing hung about the room.

Mrs. Bartow exclaimed to Mrs. Mort that the doctor needed a lot of quilts to keep him warm. She admitted it.

Later the doctor telephoned her. This was after the divorce suit had been filed. He asked her what she knew. Her reply was that she knew nothing. He suggested that it would be well to remember that he had introduced Mrs. Mort to her, not as "Jean," but as Mrs. Mort. Mrs. Bartow said she did not answer him. A professional way, Mrs. Bartow sought to establish yesterday that there was only one bed in the house. The testimony to this effect was given by Capt. A. C. Miller. When asked if there wasn't a sanitary couch in the rear room, he said, there was not room for one.

Mrs. Bartow testified that Dr. Bartow and Mrs. Mort seemed very affectionate.

"There was a great deal of hugging and kissing," she declared. The evidence showed that Mrs. Mort rented the house, from Mrs. Maud Belleu and paid the rent. She was separated from her husband. She will take the stand in her own defense, admitting that she was home and that the doctor was a boarder. The hugs and kisses will be denied. She will also say that they were two beds and a couch in the house.
